Book Title	Author	Reader Comment
The Great Believers	Rebecca Makkai	Journeys in and out, forward and backward, through the peak of the AIDS crisis. Vivid and compelling.
Shelter in Place	Nora Roberts	One of Roberts' best, romance not the main component—mall massacre, psychopath, psychic, and more. Great characters, lots of twists and turns.
A Kind of Paradise	Amy Rebecca Tan	This is a Junior Fiction book—about libraries! Delightful.
Lost Roses	Martha Hall Kelly	If you have read Lilac Girls , you will love this!
Becoming	Michelle Obama	Memoir.
Before Sunrise	Diana Palmer	Native American history and culture, relationships, careers, anthropology.
Dragonfly in Amber	Diana Gabaldon	Vivid, powerful sequel to Outlander .
Mother Teresa: Come Be My Light: The Primary Writings of the Saint of Calcutta	Mother Teresa & Father Brian Kolodiejchuk Commentary	If you have ever gone through a dark period, or want to find meaning in suffering, I recommend this book!
The Woman in the Window	A J Finn	Powerful and packed with stunning twists.
Educated	Tara Westover	Amazing read—heavy and upsetting at times but amazing.
Nikki Heat Series	Richard Castle	Detective stories based on the TV series "Castle".
